15-ft fence to prevent leopard entry into Brindavan Gardens

- Proposal sent to State Government for approval; tenders to be called soon, say officials
- KRS closure causing irreparable damage to Dam reputation; hard to regain fame, says MLA

Srirangapatna, Nov. 26 (Vinay Karekura,KS&BCT)- In a bid to win back tourists to the now shut Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam and Brindavan Gardens and to prevent leopards from straying inside the Dam premises, the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) has drawn up an ambitious plan to erect a fence of 12 to 15 ft at areas where the Dam boundary meets forest areas.

CNNL manages the Dam and a proposal to build the fence has been sent by the higher authorities to the State Government for approval. Though senior officers of the Dam were not available for comments, official sources told Star of Mysore that the fence will be laid up to a distance of three to four kilometres in those places where the Dam boundary wall is adjacent to the forest area and thick vegetation.

"This is to prevent leopards from straying inside the Dam premises, especially the Brindavan Gardens where thousands of tourists come on a day-to-day basis. Now the Dam is closed for the tourists and the Forest Department is unable to trap the leopard. We are desperately trying to get approvals from the Government so that we can win back tourists," an officer said on condition of anonymity.

"We are awaiting directions from the Forest Department to reopen the Dam to visitors but the Department is not responding to our pleas," he added.

An idle mind does not always mean a non-productive mind. It is an open state of mind that invites external experiences informing us of the world in unique ways. It also invites us to reshuffle our memories, deal with real-world problems, and prioritise our realistic goals. Since the dawn of the internet, we have constantly been in a state of reducing information pathways about our external environments. Human-to-human interactions have dropped drastically.

Athlete without legs breaks records

Los Angeles: Clark, an athlete who was born without legs showed off the strength of his upper body by breaking the Guinness World Records for highest box jump with the hands and most diamond pushups in three minutes.

Clark took on the box jumping record first, meeting the Guinness minimum of 24 inches easily. The height of the box was increased to 30 inches, which he also cleared, and ended up setting the record at 33 inches.

The athlete then took on the record for diamond pushups, a variant of the exercise that involves the hands being placed together in a diamond shape instead of at shoulder width.

Clark was born without legs as a result of caudal regression syndrome, a rare condition characterized by abnormal development of the lower end of the spine.

MUDA to build Peripheral Ring Road: Some thoughts

Sir,

Read the news item that MUDA is going to build the Peripheral Ring Road (PRR), claiming Mysuru is growing exponentially (SOM dated Nov. 23). But the short-sightedness of MUDA is in planning to build a 45 ft width x 73.25 kms (up to 120 km) long road.

Why not a 90 ft width road with a 10 ft median and another 45 to 50 feet extra land on either side (making a total of 90 to 100 feet) for the future (after the short-sighted vision of 25 years). And once built, a definite budget must be allocated for its maintenance.

I hope the budget for the planned PRR includes lighting, signals and CCTV cameras.

II

Sir,

Is MUDA's proposed Peripheral Ring Road project the need of the hour? What must be the response of people's representatives for citizens' problems? Will this new road help general public to the benefit of all?

Why not give a thought for faster public transport to ease movement of people at low cost and speed? Will the new project reduce pollution?

MCC, MUDA and the Media must arrange a public debate to discuss the issue and then only go ahead with the DPR of the Peripheral Ring Road project.

Digital battlefront will be real battle of future

Investigation-oriented forensic audit must become mainstream practice, says cyber security expert

Mysuru, Nov. 26 (PM&BCT)- Forensic audit investigations are important as they help uncover the modus operandi of corporate misdoings such as embezzlement, bribes, extortion, fictitious transactions, kickbacks and conflict of interest, said Sanjay Sahay, Founder and Director, TechConPro Pvt Ltd., Bengaluru. He is a former IPS officer who served in the rank of ADGP, pro-public speaker, cyber security guru, thought leader and writer.

He was delivering a lecture on 'cybercrime and forensic auditing: A new avenue of collaboration with digital forensics' yesterday at the two-day 30th Annual State Conference of Karnataka Medico-Legal Society (KAMLSCON 2022). The conference, with the theme 'Collaborative Forensics' was inaugurated yesterday at Sri Rajendra Auditorium, JSS College of Pharmacy. The event was organised by the Department of Forensic Medicine and Toxicology, JSS Medical College.

Sanjay Sahay, Founder and Director, TechConPro Pvt. Ltd., Bengaluru, who is also a former IPS officer, addressing the gathering at the 30th Annual State Conference of KAMLSCON-2022 at Sri Rajendra Auditorium, JSS College of Pharmacy, Mysuru, yesterday.

Billions at stake

Global cyber crime is worth 1.5 trillion dollars a year; 860 billion dollars from illicit / illegal online markets; 500 billion dollars from intellectual property thefts; 160 billion dollars from data trading; 1.6 billion dollars from crimeware-as-a-service; 1 billion dollars from ransomware.

—Sanjay Sahay, Cyber Security Guru and former IPS officer

Getting hacked is new normal

Forensic audits can also help locate or identify potential fraud and they are crucial as India has seen a rapid rise in cases related to fraud and white-collar crimes, he said. "Over 97 percent of the Fortune 500 companies have been hacked. Getting hacked is the new normal. Human factor is the weakest link in cybercrime. And digital battlefront will remain the real battle in days to come," he explained. As ADGP, Sanjay Sahay created an Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software for Police Department, the Police IT, for Karnataka State Police and headed the Crime and Criminal Tracking Network and Systems (CCTNS) project since its inception. He single-handedly created all professional documentation pertaining to the project.

He also headed Communication and State Crime Records Bureau and has headed UN, Recruitment and Selection, for Kosovo Police Service at Pristina, Kosovo and was as a Regional Commander in the UN Peacekeeping Mission in Sudan. Sahay resigned from Police service in March 2020 and launched his own private enterprise.

Criticality of forensic audit

"The regular statutory audits brought us to a crossroad where the most important of the financial lapses went under the rug never to come out. Given insufficient time with a reasonably average workforce proved disastrous in the process of statutory audit and we all have seen what the audit did to global companies and the economy. Hence was born the science, art and commerce of forensic audit," he explained.

Digital forensics is the process of storing, analysing, retrieving, and preserving electronic data that may be useful in an investigation. Digital medium includes (data from) hard drives in computers, mobile phones, smart appliances, vehicle navigation systems, electronic door locks, and other digital devices. Digital forensics is a well-established tool of cybercrime investigation and now also crimes, given the massive presence of this medium in every sphere, he said.

Data at the core of all operations

Data is at the core of all our modern-day company operations. Digital forensics is a branch of forensic science encompassing the recovery, investigation, examination and analysis of material found in digital devices, often in relation to mobile devices and computer crime. Collaboration with digital forensics is a necessity, not a choice, he said.

Digital forensics includes computer forensics, mobile device forensics, network forensics, database forensics, Internet Of Things forensics and cloud. Its features include evidence-based reasoning, objective and evidence seeking, reconstructing the story through complex data sources and there is no assumptions in digital investigation, he said.

Essential mainstream practice

"Forensic audit needs to become a mainstream practice and cannot be used as an umbrella when it rains. Otherwise, the scams of the day will never be out. There is forensics in everything in the technological age. Investigation-oriented forensic audit has done yeoman service to the profession and recognised the third eye of audit and also the technology needed to make it happen," he noted.

The domain expertise with data tools applied on financial documents will reveal the frauds. As all information and data are digital, the gaps, patterns and clues exist in the cracks and crevices of databases and in digital storage and communication mediums on a variety of gadgets, tools and platforms including the cloud, Sanjay Sahay added.

Stray dogs roaming in and around Brindavan Gardens caught

CNNL Superintending Engineer (Mandya Circle) Anand told reporters yesterday that the task of clearing bushes around the Dam is underway in consultation with the Forest Department. Bushes and shrubs are the favourite places for leopards to take shelter while hunting. "We have sent the proposal to fence to the Government and tenders will be called as soon as the approval is granted," he said.

However, the fencing proposal up to 12 to 15 ft has been criticised as leopards are known to jump beyond that height. "A leopard is a powerful animal and is known to leap over 20 feet and can jump up to 10 feet into the air. Fencing up to 15 ft is not at all sufficient," said wildlife experts.

Stray dogs caught

The CNNL has also taken another step to lure the elusive leopard into the cages placed at points where the feline was sighted earlier. They are now catching stray dogs that are roaming in and around Brindavan Gardens to prevent the leopard from preying on them.

Last Thursday, more than 20 stray dogs were caught in and around the vicinity. As stray dogs are easy prey to the leopard, and officers feel that if the stray dogs moved from the area, then naturally the leopard too will stay away from the cage trap.

"Also, if the strays are not around, the leopard will not get its food easily and will be lured into the bait placed inside the cages," an officer said. However, footage from CCTV cameras have captured the leopard moving close to a cage but did not walk in despite live bait placed inside the cage.

'Govt., CNNL, Forest Department have to take the blame'

Ravindra Srikantaiah

Reacting over the issue of the closure of the famed KRS Dam and Brindavan Gardens for more than a month, Srirangapatna MLA Ravindra Srikantaiah blamed the State Government, the authorities of Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) and the Forest Department for inaction. "Closing the Dam for such a long period will cause irreparable damage to its reputation. It is unfortunate that the State Government is not concerned about the same, he added.

"Officials have not made any sincere attempt so far to capture the elusive leopard. Local officials have been given the responsibility of capturing the feline but they are sitting helpless and the higher officers are not bothered," he said.

"If the fame and reputation of the Dam built over several decades is lost, it is difficult to regain the same. We have to carefully guard the Dam's image as apart from being a tourist spot, the Reservoir is a lifeline of people," he said.

The Government too is not serious about the Dam. "We have two Ministers K. Gopalaiah and K.C. Narayanagowda who are only focussed on K.R. Pet but are neglecting other parts of Mandya. They are only working to meet their self-interests rather than serving public interest. I will raise the Dam issue in the Assembly," he added.

Update info if Aadhaar ID is older than 10 years

The updation would ensure continued accuracy of Aadhaar-related information in the Central Identities Data Repository (CIDR), according to gazette notification.

UIDAI said that updates can be made both online and at Aadhaar centres. According to the statement, people who received their unique identification number more than 10 years ago and haven't updated their documents since receiving them are being 'requested' to do so. UIDAI, however, did not say if this updation is mandatory.

Aadhaar Seva Kendras in Mysuru

There are two Aadhaar Seva Kendras (ASKs) in Mysuru — one at Vijayanagar First Stage and the other at Saraswathipuram. "One can update the Aadhaar in a hassle-free way at these two Kendras. There is no need of booking the lots as there is no rush of people. Also, we are well-equipped and each ASK can easily handle over 1,000 updation per day, Col. N.G. Krishna Prasad (Retd.), Centre Manager, ASKs Vijayanagar and Saraswathipuram told Star of Mysore.

The updation of identification document and proof of residence is being done on payment of the requisite fee of Rs. 50. "This facility can be accessed on My Aadhaar portal or by visiting nearest Aadhaar centre," the UIDAI statement added.

Nominal fee

"Residents can also book slots online and visit the Kendras. Those who book the slots will be charged Rs. 50 for online updation and those who walk-in to update their data with biometrics will have to pay Rs. 100," officers at ASKs said. Also, the updation of residential address can be done online at homes and also at MysoreOne centres by paying the requisite fee. But if one goes to a cyber centre, anywhere between Rs. 100 to Rs. 200 is charged for a single update.

Special drive in Mysuru

UIDAI has taken up a special drive to update the Aadhaar of the residents who have been issued more than 8 to 10 years ago. Initially, Bengaluru Urban, Ballari and Belagavi districts were covered under pilot project.

On getting good response, it was decided to extend it to other districts in a phased manner. Hence, the project has now been taken up in Mysuru, said a note from the UIDAI sent to Mysuru Deputy Commissioner's Office.

Those who wish to update their Aadhaar cards must carry all the required data and documents to their nearest UIDAI centre for verification. It must be noted that all the information will be verified with past records to make sure that there are no discrepancies.

CM to inaugurate MPVL Platinum Jubilee on Nov. 28

Mysuru, Nov. 26 (RKB&DM)- City-based Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) — formerly Mysore Lac and Paints (MyLAC) — is completing 75 years and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will inaugurate the Platinum Jubilee (Amrit Mahotsav) celebrations of the prestigious Government-run factory at an event in Kalamandira on Hunsur Road on Nov. 28 at 3 pm.

Addressing a press meet at MPVL office at Bannimantap here this morning along with MD G. Kumaraswamy, MPVL Chairman Kautilya R. Raghu said District Minister S.T. Somashekar, Major Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani, Municipal Administration, Small Scale Industries and PSU Minister N. Nagaraj (MTB Nagaraj), Member of erstwhile Royal family Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, MPs Pratap Simha, V. Sreenivasa Prasad and Sumalatha Ambarish, Mayor Shivakumar will be present and MLA L. Nagendra will preside.

Kautilya R. Raghu

Recalling the journey of MPVL, Raghu Kautilya said that erstwhile Mysuru ruler Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar set up Mysore Lac Factory in 1937 at Bannimantap, which later came under the control of the then Mysore Government in 1947, when it was named as Mysore Lac and Paints Limited (MyLAC).

The factory was later renamed as Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) in 1989 when the factory started the manufacture of Varnish, he noted. The indelible ink manufacturing process is a closely guarded secret and is based on a chemical formula devised by National Physical Laboratory of India, he added.

Pointing out that the then MyLAC was selected by the Government of India for manufacture of indelible ink, Raghu said that this ink was first used in the third General Election of India.

Maintaining that MPVL is the only manufacturer of indelible ink in the country, he said that the ink is meeting the needs of elections in several countries including Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore, Cambodia, Nigeria, South Africa, Afghanistan, etc. The MPVL also manufactures marker pens that contain this indelible ink.

The MPVL also manufactures chemical-resistant paints, enamels, primers, distempers, sealing wax and polishes. The sealing wax of MPVL is used by India Post and the Election Commission to seal Ballot boxes, he said.

Continuing, Raghu said that at present, the Karnataka Government holds 91.39 percent of the shares (share value Rs. 94,73,000) and the general public 8.61 percent (share value Rs. 8,87,500). The MPVL has conducted business totalling Rs. 32 crore in 2021-22 earning a profit of Rs. 6.80 crore. MPVL has declared a dividend of 30 percent in 2021-22.

He also revealed the future plans which included upgradation of manufacturing process, market expansion through e-Market using GeM (Government e-Marketplace), establishment of an exclusive R&D Centre, getting ISI Mark for products, getting Indian Railways' RDSO (Research Design and Scientific Organisation) certification for products and entering into an agreement with ASRTU (Association of State Road Transport Undertakings) in New Delhi.

Publishers have more responsibility than writers: Prof. B.V. Vasanthkumar

Mysuru, Nov.26 (GA&DM)- Maharani's Arts College faculty Prof. B.V. Vasanthkumar said that Publishing is not a money-based business but the one which spreads knowledge to the world.

He was speaking after launching the newly formed Akhila Karnataka Lekhakara Mattu Prakashakara Sangha marking Kannada Rajyotsava celebrations at Rotary Hall on JLB road here on Friday.

Observing that Publishers have more responsibility than writers as they (publishers) are the means of expanding knowledge to the world, Prof. Vasanthkumar said that there are around 2,000 publishers in the State and more than 8,000 Kannada books are published every year, out of which 4,500 books enter Public Libraries run by the Government.

"Publishers must not depend on the Government and Libraries for purchase of books. Instead, the days must come when Libraries have to run behind Publishers for books," he said adding that writing books would be of no use if they do not get published.

Likening the Publication industry to an Open University, he said that Government must support the Publishing industry, which plays a key role in spreading knowledge and awareness.

Vokkaligara Sangha Director booked on charges of cheating

Bengaluru, Nov. 26- A Director of Karnataka State Vokkaligara Sangha at Bengaluru and his wife have been booked by the Police on charges of cheating a person to the tune of Rs.35 lakh on the promise of getting medical seat for his (person) relative at Kempegowda Institute of Medial Sciences (KIMS) at Bengaluru, which is run by the Sangha.

M.B. Manjegowda, the Director, who is from Mysuru and his wife Meena, are the ones who have been booked.

One K.R. Srinvias, a 58-year-old Contractor of Bengaluru, approached Manjegowda seeking a medical seat for his relative at KIMS, which is run by Vokkaligara Sangha, of which Manjegowda of Mysuru is a Director.

Manjegowda had claimed that he is the head of the Nursing College run by the Sangha and as such he can influence the KIMS administration for getting an MBBS seat. Therafter, Manjegowda asked Srinivas to meet him at a Hotel in Bengaluru. As told, Srinivas went to the Hotel on Mar.7 and paid Rs.35 lakh in cash to Manjegowda and his wife for getting the seat, when Manjegowda couple asked him to come to the Sangha Office three days later.

As directed, Srinivas went to the Vokkaligara Sangha office three days later, when he was asked by Manjegowda to come after a week. Later, Srinivas got worried as he did not get the promised seat for his relative. After coming to know that the admissions at KIMS had closed, Srinivas felt cheated and went to the residence of Manjegowda at J.P.Nagar in Mysuru and asked him to return the money (Rs.35 lakh), when he was abused and threatened by Manjegowda, his wife Meena and others.

Finding no other way, Srinivas lodged a complaint at High Grounds Police Station in Bengaluru on Nov.23. Based on the complaint, the Police have booked a case (C.R.No.0189/2022) against M.B. Manjegowda (accused -1) and his wife Meena and others (accused -2).

WORD OF THE DAY

Arrivederci

Pronunciation: ahr-ree-ve-der-chee.
Meaning: Until we see each other again; goodbye for the present.
Origin: Arrivederci, "goodbye for the present," is a loanword from Italian composed of several elements. The first of these is a, "to," from Latin ad. The second element is ri-, "back, again," from Latin re-, which is found in the recent Words of the Day refractory, revenant, and revitalize. Next is vedere, "to see," which is also an element in the Word of the Day belvedere. Arrivederci is almost an exact cognate of French au revoir; a key difference is the final additional element in Italian, ci, "us, each other." In this way, while French au revoir literally means "to the seeing again," Italian arrivederci literally means "to seeing each other again." Arrivederci was first recorded in English circa 1670.
Example: In closing minutes of last class of the semester, professor bade her students a warm "arrivederci" and began thinking about her vacation.

THE ODD WORD

Abterminal

Going from the end inwards.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A good hiding

Meaning: A good hiding is a severe thrashing.
Origin: A good hiding is one of the phrases that we infer the meaning of without really understanding. One can remember at school being threatened with a good hiding by the teachers and working out pretty quickly from the context what was being said. It never occurred to me to wonder why hiding, which everyone knew meant 'concealing oneself from view', should be used in a phrase meaning a severe thrashing.
We rarely have use for it now but the verb hiding was used in the 18th century to mean 'flay - remove the hide from'. This wasn't in the sense of beating but of removing a hide of an animal during slaughter. In 1757 the English poet William Thompson published a record of how the British Navy was provisioned - Royal Navy-men's Advocate, which included an account of ox slaughtering: They are neither sufficiently blooded, nor dressed in any tolerable manner more than hiding.
